

As announced last Thursday, eFX Collectibles have acquired the rights to develop replicas based on Marvel Comics properties, kicking things off with this summer's long-awaited big screen assembly of The Avengers. While we got an early look at replicas of the headgear for the movie's "Big Three," in addition to Captain America's mighty shield, eFx have now revealed an early look at the replica for Thor's trusty hammer, Mjolnir. Showcasing exactly how the God of Thunder's favored weapon differentiates from it's appearance in last summer's THOR blockbuster, check out the efx Mjolnir prop replica down below! More prop replicas will be revealed at this year's WonderCon event, which will be held in Anaheim, California, March 16-18. For those who don't have an eye for detail, here's what Mjolnir looked like in 2011's Thor movie: Marvel Studios presents in association with Paramount Pictures "Marvel's The Avengers"--the super hero team up of
