

have posted a brief statement from Jeremy Latcham, co-producer of The Avengers for Marvel Studios, who revealed that there is only two days of filming left in New York once they wrap things up in Cleveland, and then the movie is finished! The site has also added some revealing new details about filming, but be sure to check out the report in full by clicking on the link below.

"It was great to see them come out every day. They took tons of pictures and put them up on the Internet, which is just great. Cleveland has been amazing. We wanted a real street feeling to the scenes, and we got that. After that Joss takes it all back to L.A. and creates the movie."

And although we know bits and pieces of the following, there are a few interesting new tidbits of information contained with these filming details. A Russian facility?

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=45335&t=iThe Avengersi Producer Comments On Status Of Filming More Minor Plot Details Revealed