

In an incredibly lengthy series of interviews with IGN Movies, the cast and crew of Sherlock Holmes: A Game of Shadows have revealed plenty of new details about the movie. Below are just a brief selection of excerpts, but be sure to click on the link below to read much, much more. Guy Ritchie On The Decision To Make A Sequel And What We Can Expect From The Movie: We enjoyed the last one so much it would seem churlish not to return and do another one... We've pretty much reached the end of this one, and it's been great. I like filming in the UK - I'll sleep in my own bed, which I'm really happy about. It's been a pleasure doing this one. We found the identity of the relationship in the last one and we'd like to big that up so to speak. We'd like to try to improve
