

As any true Star Wars fan knows, "The Phantom Menace" was awful. But that last three way lightsaber duel between Darth Maul, Obi-Wan and Qui-Gon Jin was pretty damn cool. At the end of it, Maul kills Qui-Gon and Kenobi eviscerates Maul in return. But in the Clone Wars animated series Maul was resurrected and in this Friday's season finale entitled "Revenge", he comes looking for just that. Check out a clip of their rematch courtesy of EW. Click on the image below to watch Ah, if only we could have seen something like this up on the big screen in live action. Still, we did get an old git and an asthmatic droid..lizard..thing as new villains instead! Be sure to tune in Friday to see how that tussle turns out.

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=56350>