

Thinking about going to see The Lego Batman Movie next week when the film opens in theaters on February 10? Check out a few reviews below which all agree that the 3D computer-animated action-comedy is just as good if not better than 2014's critically acclaimed The Lego Movie. Of course, among a few of the glowing reviews, some critics couldn't help but take shots at the DCEU and Zack Snyder's dark rendition of the Caped Crusader. Others immediately zeroed in on comparisons to Ryan Reynold's Deadpool which are sure to put a few extra seats in theaters. While it's easy to take shots at the DCEU right now, perhaps there are indeed a few things to be learned from the impending box office success and critical acclaim that awaits the Chris McKay directed animated feature next week? Bleeding Cool "Without a shadow of a doubt, this is the best Batman movie I have ever seen... proof that they could have made a Deadpool-for-kids if they'd actually
