

Hugh Jackman's time as Wolverine has finally come to an end and it sounds like he's going to ride off into the sunset exactly where he belongs - on top. The first reviews for 20th Century Fox's Logan landed online earlier this afternoon, at exactly 4:30 ET sharp, and they are exceedingly positive with Jackman, Patrick Stewart, Dafne Keen, & Boyd Holbrook all receiving high marks for their performances. Mangold also receives a ton of praise for his impeccable direction and work on the film's script. While we won't Check out the reviews below: Empire 'Yes, the Wolverine movie without 'Wolverine' in the title is definitely the best one yet: grown-up, ballsy, character-driven and grounded. It feels right that it should be the last one, but it also feels a bit of a shame. Rating: 4 stars out of 5 Total Film Brutal, bloody, and beautiful, Logan is the gritty, R-rated Wolverine movie we've all been waiting for. IGN Logan is in many ways an emotional, heavy picture, but it's also an uplifting

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/x-men/logan/the-first-reviews-reactions-for-logan-say-its-the-wolverine-film-a149019>