

Thanks to the guys over at Trailer Track, we have a pretty good idea when we'll be seeing the first teasers for both Guardians of the Galaxy Vol.2 and Logan. As you can see from the pics below, the BBFC has classified trailers for the movies, which (usually) means they should be with us within the next few days - at least before the UK release of Marvel's Doctor Strange on the 25th. The WponX Instagram account has been uploading cryptic black and white images relating to Logan for the past week or so, leaving fans anxious for a first glimpse of some footage. The GOTG Vol. 2 teaser is a bit more surprising, but certainly no less welcome. What do you guys hope to see from these first teasers? Logan is set to hit theaters on March 3, 2017, while Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2 will be released on May 5, 2017.
