

The latest issue of Empire Magazine doesn't feature much in the way of new information about Justice League, but a brand new image from the movie has now been released. Does the whole thing take place in this building? Probably not, but between this and the Comic-Con trailer, it definitely looks like a big chunk of the action will be set here before Aquaman and Superman both join up with the team! "These guys - Aquaman, Cyborg, Flash - really are just fun to explore," says director Zack Snyder. "They're just so fresh. They're on the edge of their powers at different times in this story and that's really fun." Seeing this lot together will definitely be "fun" (there's that word again), but it's still a little hard to accept that Hal Jordan's Green Lantern isn't going to end up also being part of Justice League. Starring Ben Affleck, Henry Cavill, Amy Adams, Gal Gadot, Ezra Miller, Jason Momoa, Ray Fisher, Willem Dafoe, Jesse

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/justice_league/the-latest-image-from-zack-snyders-justice-league-has-now-been-a148420