

Back in the 90s, a line of Power Rangers action figures was released which allowed kids to flip the heads of the character to help them “transform”; from the civilian identities to their heroic uniforms in the blink of an eye. A hit with fans, they looked a little out of proportion, but that's not the kind of thing most youngsters care about! Well, prepare to relive your childhood with a new line of them! These are obviously based on Lionsgate's upcoming reboot and will retail for $14.99 each. Only the Red and Black Rangers (played by Dacre Montgomery and Ludi Lin) have been revealed so far, but chances are we'll get the whole team in this form by the time the movie is released. So, regardless of how you feel about the Power Rangers reboot, at least it will allow you to relive your childhood to some extent. Well, unless the movie then ruins your childhood! For that, we're just going to have
