

Deadline reports that producers Roy Lee and Taka Ichiseto are teaming to produce a film adaptation of IDW Publishing's The Suicide Forest, a four issue miniseries from the comic book company which was both written and illustrated by El Torres. Hideo Nakata - who previously directed the 1998 Japanese horror film Ringu and a sequel to its American remake, The Ring Two - has been hired to direct. IDW's Ted Adams and John Middleton will serve as executive producers. The four issues in the series ran between late 2010 and early 2011. Below is a plot summary of the series: Just outside of Tokyo lies Aokigahara, a vast forest and one of the most beautiful wilderness areas in Japan... which is also the most famous suicide spot in the entire world. Legend has it that the spirits of those many suicides are still roaming—haunting deep in those ancient woods. This series from
