

Earlier today, we got the first poster for Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2. However, Marvel has now followed that up with a "sneak peek" which offers up our first look at footage from the highly anticipated release. Director James Gunn has said on Twitter that a full trailer will follow soon, so expect to see that online probably within the next week or so before Doctor Strange is released. There are some very cool reveals here, including what may or may not be the planet Ego calls home. The team will be going to some pretty unique locations anyway, and the visual here are...well, out of this world! It also sounds like things aren't going too well for Star-Lord and Gamora in the romance department as we get an amusing exchange between the former and Drax as he makes it clear that Peter needs to look for a certain type of woman! Oh, and Groot's costume? Nothing short of amazing. Starring Chris
