

If you weren't a big fan of Chris Pratt's dance-off scene at the end of the first movie, these new Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2 promo vids may not do much for you, but everyone else is sure to get a kick out of 'em. The official GOTG Twitter page debuted them in the hours following the Super Bowl spot, and they provide new looks at Star Lord, Gamora, Drax, Nebula, baby Groot and Yondu as they cut a space-rug with their signature dance moves. No sign of Rocket (something tells me he's not much of a dancer) or new recruit Mantis for the time being. There are no rules against celebrating in this galaxy... #obviously #GotGVol2
