

1. DAREDEVIL #15 Surprised that Avengers Vs. X-Men #8 isn't at the top of the list? Well, how can any title other than the now Eisner Award winning series NOT be this week's most essential read? Writer Mark Waid (who also won an Eisner Award this past weekend for this work on Daredevil) has left the Man Without Fear stranded in Latveria not only blind, but without the rest of his senses as well! This is a terrifying and unusual situation for Matt Murdock to find himself in, and the plot also continues to thicken back in Hell's Kitchen. What exactly did Foggy find in Matt's desk to make him decide that he no longer wishes to work with him? As good as the story being told is, new series artist Chris Samnee also impresses with his eye-catching and colourful artwork. Buy it!

2. AVENGERS VS. X-MEN #8 The Avengers and X-Men may be

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=64022>