

Rumours indicate that Iron Man will make an appearance in Doctor Strange, and with the signs pointing to Thor and Loki tracking down the Sorcerer Supreme in Thor: Ragnarok, the Marvel Cinematic Universe's newest hero will be meeting The Avengers sooner rather than later. That's actually teased in this latest TV spot for the movie as it teases some "strange" new developments. Doctor Strange follows the story of neurosurgeon Doctor Stephen Strange who, after a horrific car accident, discovers the hidden world of magic and alternate dimensions. Set for release on November 4th, later this year, the cast includes Benedict Cumberbatch, Chiwetel Ejiofor, Rachel McAdams, Benedict Wong, Michael Stuhlbarg, Mads Mikkelsen, Tilda Swinton, and maybe even Robert Downey Jr.

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/doctor\_strange/things-get-strange-for-the-avengers-in-latest-tv-spot-for-doctor-a145799