

Tomorrow's episode of The Flash will introduce Joey King as the villainous "Magenta", and this clip gives us a look at her in action. She actually seems like a nice enough girl at first... but who wouldn't get riled up by Draco Malfoy shouting at them? The clip cuts away before we can really see what Magenta is capable of, but you can be certain there will be some damage caused before Barry can stop her. Barry (Grant Gustin) and Team Flash are thrilled to reunite with Earth-2 Wells (Tom Cavanagh) and Jesse (guest star Violet Beane). Wells confides to Barry and Caitlin (Danielle Panabaker) that Jesse has all the powers of a speedster and has been saving people on his Earth. He is concerned about her safety and wants them to talk her out of using her powers. Meanwhile, Magenta, (guest star Joey King) a new meta who can control metal, terrorizes the city. Armen V. Kevorkian directed the episode written

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/the_flash/this-clip-from-tomorrows-episode-of-the-flash-proves-you-wouldnt-like-a146089