

Reports St. Louis Today (stltoday.com), "He picked up the phone last week to hear the voice of Superman Returns star Brandon Routh, a 31-year-old actor and former model originally from Norwalk, Iowa. The two talked about — what else — all things Superman for nearly half an hour. They touched on the making of the Superman Returns movie, the theft of Meyer's collection (which was subsequently returned when police made an arrest in the case), Meyer's memorabilia collection, scenes from the 2006 movie — which Meyer said he has seen 14 times in movie theaters and many more times on DVD — and past actors who have played the role.... The conversation closed with Meyer telling Routh that it was "an honor and a privilege" to have spoken with him." For the full article, just follow the link.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/VoicesFromKrypton/news/?a=47268&t=This_looks_like_a_call_fromSUPERMAN