

In their "Year In Review" covering the topics which were most talked about on Twitter during 2011, Marvel Studios and Kenneth Branagh's THOR has come out on top. Despite filming for The Avengers taking place throughout the summer and the release of a trailer and character banners, both that and the much hyped Amazing Spider-Man failed to make the cut. Shockingly, neither Captain America: The First Avenger or Green Lantern appear on the list. 1. Thor 2. The Dark Knight Rises 3. X-Men: First Class 4. Fast Five 5. Green Hornet If you'd like to read the list in full, where topics such as television, music, actors, actresses (Anne "Catwoman" Hathaway came third in that list) and news are all covered, click HERE. How do you feel about the list? Does it reflect how much you discussed these particular comic book movies, with the obvious exception of Fast Five? And what of those which are missing

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=50762&t=THOR Beats THE DARK KNIGHT RISES As The Most Talked About Movie On Twitter In 2011