

Hot off the heels of Twentieth Century Fox's X-Men: First Class sequel release date announcement, today seems to be quite a productive for movie distributors. According to Exhibitor Relations, Walt Disney Pictures has moved up the release date of Marvel Studios' Thor sequel, and pushed back Gore Verbinski's The Lone Ranger. Marvel's THOR 2 will swing his hammer again on 11/8/13 instead of the previously announced 11/15.— Exhibitor Relations (@ERCboxoffice) May 31, 2012 THE LONE RANGER will ride into town a few weeks later than expected as Disney moves the western to 7/3/13 from 5/31.— Exhibitor Relations (@ERCboxoffice) May 31, 2012 These new particular dates come in the wake of the announcement that Fox and Warner Bros.' former Entertainment Chief Alan Horn is now chairman of The Walt Disney Studios. What do you think? Exploring Thor's relationship with the Asgardian all-father Odin, as well earthbound companion Jane Foster, "Thor 2" follows the God

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=60744>