

Doctor Strange actress Tilda Swinton appeared on Jimmy Kimmel Live last night to discuss her work on the upcoming Marvel film. In a conversation with the host, Swinton revealed that her 19-year-old children both did work placement on Doctor Strange, with her daughter working in the costume department, and her son in the art department. "My daughter was breaking stuff down," Swinton said. "Taking beautiful costumes and covering them with mud. My son, we had this amazing moment one day when I met him for lunch one day in the canteen and I said, 'What did you do this morning?' and he said, 'Made a planet!'" Swinton went on to reveal that the planet her son helped design factors in to the ending of the film. "It's a planet that, I've now seen the movie, and I can tell you it appears to great effect at the end of the movie." It's well-known that the film will feature alternate dimensions and realities, but a

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/doctor_strange/tilda-swinton-reveals-that-doctor-strange-will-feature-a-planet-a146128