

Hey guys! You remember that Black Panther and Doctor Strange movie we have been waiting on for years! You're not getting it! Instead your getting a talking raccoon, Treebeard's cousin and some dude apparantly named after the male genitalia. Yes I am speaking of Guardians of the Galaxy. Marvel studios most daring and most non-Avengers related project coming out in 2014. As we all know Guardians of the Galaxy isn't as well known as Spider man or even Thor. I didn't even know who they were, and being a teenager I know everything. With such an unknown sci-fi superhero group we have to look back on the last sci-fi superhero film. It's the film we all love to hate...Green lantern. Now I analyzed that film with a group of comic book nerds and we came down to a unanimous decision....that we should turn this crap off and

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/news/?a=65897>