

OK, it may not be as dire as the headline or the article images indicate, but let's face it; trolls are a problem. It's not just a CBM issue, it seems to be a World Wide Web issue. Negativity seems to be the currency of the digital land as of late. Yes, we have the "Block" button. Yes, you can report comments that are offensive, of which we review every single one and either 1) Delete the comment, 2) Delete the report if it was false (i.e. the comment was a valid opinion, which may result in the false-submitter having their account disabled), or 3) Disable the user account who posted the comment. Yes, there are several site admin, including myself, who disable user accounts on a daily basis for bad behaviour. Unfortunately all of that isn't enough. To help combat all of this, I've set up two new Facebook pages; "DC Only News" and "Marvel Only News". These pages will focus

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/other/tired-of-the-marvel-and-dc-trolls-so-are-we-and-weve-decided-to-do-a148611>