

The LEGO Batman Movie is receiving rave reviews, and it appears as if Warner Bros. is going all out this week to give it one final promotional push. That involves giving a LEGO makeover to many of their hit TV shows, and below you'll find Minifigure versions of characters from Arrow, The Flash, Gotham, and Supergirl. Disappointingly, the eclectic cast of Legends of Tomorrow hasn't been included here. We don't know if any of these characters will show up in The LEGO Batman Movie, but if they do, they probably won't be the versions from the small screen. However, one thing these posters probably will do is make you wish that LEGO sets existed for these shows. How could it be to have a LEGO S.T.A.R. Labs or Arrow Cave? Maybe one day, but for now, check out these posters down below.
