

Among other cast and crew members who have seen Marvel's The Avengers in its entirety, 'Loki' English actor Tom Hiddleston defines the film "monumental". Conducted during last night's Jameson Empire Awards, in which he snagged best male newcomer while Marvel's Thor film won Best Sci-Fi, check out the video below! "It's an incredible film. You have expectations once you shoot a film you think, 'God everyone has pulled their weight, everyone has worked incredibly hard, it seemed like a really good experience, let's just hope somehow in post-production it all comes together,' and it has." "It's definitely new because it's a team of not one lonely hero, it's a team of them. And it's not an easy team, there's a bunch of pretty alpha personalities in there. You know, too many cooks possibly, but hopefully I'm evil enough for them to overcome their differences and save the world." Courtesy of Sssora, you

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=57009>