

Jim Littler from ComicBookMovie.com had it easy when picking out his highlights, saying, "It's a no-brainer what we'll be interested in seeing at Comic-Con this year... All the Comic Book Movie oriented panels--with a particular interest in Disney's/Marvel's IRON MAN 3 and THOR 2 offerings, as well as MAN OF STEEL!!! Plus, a personal favorite is THE VENTURE BROS." Matt Goldberg is going to be at Comic-Con covering Hall H for Collider.com. "I'm jazzed to see Django Unchained and Iron Man 3, but not so much because of the footage since that will all be released in due time. I'm more excited to see Quentin Tarantino and Robert Downey Jr. since big personalities on the Hall H stage always makes for a good time," he says. He adds he's "also eager to see what surprises various presentations may have in store." Edward Douglas, Associate Editor at ComingSoon.net and SuperHeroHype is looking forward

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/comic-con/news/?a=63085>