

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/NotaComicfan/news/?a=28386&t=Two New Stills from iX-Men First Class plus Matthew Vaughn's Reaction to Leaked Photo

Slashfilm have got two new stills from X-men: First Class as well as a candid interview with director Matthew Vaughn, where he tries to set the record straight about the first leaked photo. On the highly criticized leaked photo released a few days ago: I freaked out on them yesterday. I don't know where the hell that came from. I don't think it's a Fox image. It's not a pre-approved image. When I found out, I said, what the f is this shit, and Fox is running around trying to figure out what happened as well. I agree. It's like a bad photoshop, which maybe it was by someone. It didn't reflect the movie. I was shocked when I saw it. I was like 'Jesus Christ. On trying to reassure fans: I'm a fan of X-Men. We're not bastardizing X-Men, I'm trying to get them back to being whole again. And regarding the costumes: The costumes are