

I've geeked out in the past when I've seen GTA modifications for Superman, Flash, and even Ghost Rider, but this takes the cake. Seedyrom34 has taken GTA modifications to a whole other level. This brilliant mod took a few months of tweaking. Most of that work went into the DeLorean. We've seen DeLorean's created for the game before, but none have actually been able to travel in time, his does. In his mod the DeLorean achieves time travel once the time circuits are turned on, plutonium is in tank, and after that all you have to do is raise hit the 88 mph sweet spot. He even adds in the correct sound effects, and the iconic double streaks of fire on the pavement. The interior isn't forgotten either as it boasts a working flux capacitor. How cool is that? Check ou the video below. Seedyrom34 does provide instructions and the necessary downloads
