

This vid is less a trailer than a collection of shots, some with unfinished effects, that seem to have been put together for promotional purposes. No idea how it found it's way online or how long it will stay up but it's well worth checking out. There are quite a few shots featuring the main cast, Thomas Kretschmann, Rutger Hauer and Asia Argento, that SPOIL scenes from the movie too. As well as violence and nudity. Argento has always been an acquired taste but I'm afraid that looks pretty bad imo. I'm hoping that the final film will come together much better. What do you guys think? By TwitterButtons.com
