

The David Boze Show was able to grab an interview with Stargate star Christopher Judge today. The actor nailed down a role in Christopher Nolan's The Dark Knight Rises, but of course with the secrecy that surrounds the film, little is known about who he is playing. Much of the interview is about working with Nolan, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, and Christian Bale. But, there is one particularly juicy moment when Chris discusses practicing a fight scene that involves his character and Joseph Gordon-Levitt's John Blake. It sure sounds like Chris will be playing a bad guy in the film, unless JGL is a dirty cop. UPDATE: BJ Shea's Geek Nation (Click Here) snagged an interview with Chris Judge as well, and this one is chock full of details from the fight scene with JGL. This is also the moment in which Chris was injured on set because Joseph was instructed to make the

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/nailbiter111/news/?a=57226>