

With only a few weeks of filming remaining for Marvel's The Avengers, in Cleveland, Ohio, the city's local Plain Dealer has offered a revealing update for today's shoot, as well filming occurring in the coming days. Check it all out below. By the end of the week, Public Square (pictured right) outside Tower City will be turned into Stuttgart, Germany, for the filming of "The Avengers." Marvel Studios crew members Wednesday started the transformation, which should be done by Saturday. Nighttime filming begins on Monday, and will last at least a week. Marvel is reluctant to talk about which stars will be on the Public Square set. And regarding which stars from the superhero ensemble may be spotted in the coming days, filming scenes on the location, the site suggests: Scarlett Johansson is expected to be in Cleveland for filming late next week. Meanwhile, Chris Hemsworth is likely to be on the East
