

The people over at Bricktuts have gotten a hold of a promotional image from the upcoming Lego Batman follow up Lego Batman 2: Super Heroes. The image shows Batman and fellow DC universe character Superman. According to Bricktuts the game will have a much larger expanded universe including the likes of Green Lantern and Wonder Woman as well. From Bricktuts: An image of the new upcoming LEGO video game called "LEGO Batman 2: Super Heroes" has been revealed. The game will include all of DC Comics characters, which include Batman, Superman, Green Lantern and Wonder Woman! The game is rumored for 2012 and will likely be released for all platforms. The game is rumored to be released around the same time as The Dark Knight Rises, as some sort of promotional tie in, which would explain why Batman's suit has went from grey to all black. There is nothing confirming this however. It is
