

This is one thing about Nolan's Batman movies that will never get left alone .The below vid parodies the scene from Batman Begins in which Bats interrogates corrupt GCPD cop Flass. Here we see Batman go through a few different choices before settling on the gravelly (kinda silly) tones we are used to including Bat-Malchovitch, Bat-Arnie and Bat-Pacino. It's pretty damn funny, have a looksee.. See all the CollegeHumor Original Videos here. I think he should have went with the first one myself. Via Geekrest By TwitterButtons.com
