

I noticed while discussing Plinkett's review of Indiana Jones & The Kingdom Of The Crystal Skull in the comments section, that many of you were surprised to find that the Red Letter Media lads (Mike Stoklasa and Jay Bauman) had their own review show, so I decided to post a few vids. They have covered most of last years biggest CBMs (no Green Lantern though..yet!) including X-Men: First Class, Captain America: TFA and Thor. None are as in depth as Plinkett's reviews, but most are hilarious. My personal favorite is their take on Transformers: DOTM, which they had to watch in shifts. You may want to skip the Cowboys & Aliens one, they actually kind of enjoyed it. But be sure to head over to their site (link below) and check out the rest of their (supposed to be) weekly reviews.
