

Tom Holland has only been seen as Spider-Man for a few minutes in Captain America: Civil War, but he's already doing a lot of good as the Marvel Cinematic Universe's wall-crawler. In his latest visit to a children's hospital, co-star Zendaya (who recently once again denied being Mary Jane) caught everything on camera, but the actor got a surprise when he learned that the youngster prefers Batman! It's a funny video, and really emphasises how much good Holland is doing after taking on this role. After that sneak peek earlier this year, we'll get to see him in action when Spider-Man: Homecoming is released in July, while it's thought that he'll also return to take on a key role in Avengers: Infinity War. Check out the video below and then be sure to let us know your thoughts on it in the usual place. I think we have worlds best real life Spider-Man....an absolutely beautiful day at @nyphospital with two of my favorite
