

Jyn Erso isn't the only one that can throw down. It turns out that Felicity Jones is just as deadly.

During her appearance on The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon, the 33-year old actress revealed that she learned a little bit of kung fu while filming the highly-anticipated Rogue One: A Star Wars Story. "I did a lot of kung fu, I had a wonderful teacher called Master Yule, who was my Kung fu teacher." She then continued, "I mean it was many hours of devotion and practice and doing it over and over again, and now I'm just wanting to make Jyn a bad-ass." Shortly after that, Felicity took the time to teach Fallon a fight sequence she learned from her Kung Fu training. As you might have guessed, it didn't end well for "The Tonight Show" host.
