

The full theatrical trailer for Sherlock Holmes: A Game Of Shadows that hit a few days ago (see it below) has fans very excited and now they can look forward to a threequel at some point too.

Video: MSN Exclusive: Sherlock Holmes: A Game Of Shadows - trailer 3 Deadline reports.. Warner Bros has set Drew Pearce to write Sherlock Holmes 3, continuing the Guy Ritchie-directed series that stars Robert Downey Jr. and Jude Law. The deal will soon be sealed with Pearce, who is currently writing Iron Man 3, which will also star Downey. Game Of Shadows is set to be released December 16th and WB must be pretty confident in it's success if they are already planning a follow up. But then the first movie made a packet, received good reviews and garnered a big fan base. Personally I wasn't really a fan but I'll give the sequel a shot anyway. Obviously
