

It's been a pretty good run for Kenneth Branagh and Marvel's comic book adaptation THOR. It has received positive reviews, the cast was great, direction, cinematography, visual effects, everything was good. One big thing fans wanted is for the film to have a longer running time. Some characters deserved more screen time, so hopefully we will see all that in the sequel. And as of yesterday, THOR has passed a $400 million mark. So, here is a chance to cast your vote on what did you think about latest Marvel big screen adaptation. Starring Chris Hemsworth, Tom Hiddleston, Anthony Hopkins, Idris Elba, Natalie Portman, Stellan Skarsgård, Jaimie Alexander, Ray Stevenson and Colm Feore, THOR is still playing in theatres worldwide.
