

We brought you guys a first look at Empire Magazine's subscribers cover earlier on, and now we have 4 brand new stills. They mainly focus on young Dafne Keen as Laura/X-23, but there's also a stunning new shot of Hugh Jackman's iconic former X-Man standing in the forest with his claws bared. In a new interview, Jackman describes Logan as "a darker version of Little Miss Sunshine", and tells an amusingly profane story about shooting a scene in which his character loses his temper with Laura. "I just yelled, 'SHUT THE FUCK UP!'" says the Aussie star. "At the end of 40 minutes of this I went up to Maria, Dafne's mum, and I said, 'Maria, I've got an 11-year-old and I'm just really sorry.' Maria said, 'Aw, don't worry, she just called you a c*nt. In Spanish.'" Lovely! Check out the rest of the pics below, and be sure to pick up the latest edition of Empire for more on Logan. In the

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/x-men/logan/wolverine-and-x-23-get-their-claws-out-in-these-awesome-new-logan-a148390>