

After a lengthy wait, the final theatrical trailer for Logan - Hugh Jackman's final bow as the beloved Wolverine - has arrived and it was well worth the wait. The trailer starts out in a convenience store where Dafne Keen's mysterious Laura is seen picking up a few snacks and stuff for the road before she ends up in a confrontation with the store clerk. Luckily, Jackman's titular hero is able to diffuse the situation and takes her back with him to their hideout where we reunite with Patrick Stewart's weathered Professor X. We then meet the Reavers, led by Boyd Holbrook's Donald Pierce, who attempt to take Laura away, but they're in for a rude awakening when Laura X-23 strikes back. The rest of the trailer takes us through some the bloody awesome action sequences as Wolverine & X-23 team-up and fight to survive in the literal Hell on Earth. Check out the domestic and extended international trailer below: In the near future, a weary

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/x-men/the_wolverine/x-23-is-unleashed-in-these-heart-stopping-final-pair-of-a148292