

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=27696&t=iX-Men_First_Class_Gets_Earlier_UK_Release_Date_Plus_New_Character_Details_Revealed

It's already been confirmed that the movie will be released in the US on June 3rd, but as has been the trend of late with comic book movies such as Kick-Ass, Iron Man 2 and Thor, the UK will get to see X-Men: First Class a little sooner. (although not weeks sooner as was the case with those listed above) Here's an excerpt from the report at RWD. "The news that X-Men First Class, the film focussed on the early days of the mutant movement has finally been given a UK release date excites us a lot." "...which began the eternal war between Magneto's Brotherhood and Professor X's X-Men is released June 2 2011 in the UK and Ireland." Interestingly, the site also mentions that the cast was "revealed" to them along with the release date. Although we already know whose playing who, I'm pretty sure we've not heard Kevin Bacon's Sebastian Shaw also