

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=28333&t=Your Chance To Buy A HYDRA Truck From The Set Of iCaptain America The First Avenge ri

Remember when all that work was going on in Manchester last year? Each day, we had more and more pictures of the construction going on there, with the arrival of the WWII era vehicles adding to the effect of transforming a modern British street into 1940's New York. As well as that, we've also seen plenty of other images featuring US Army vehicles and even a few HYDRA trucks! Well, those same vehicles are now going up for sale, giving fans a chance to own a part of the highly anticipated movie from Marvel Studios. Here are some excerpts from the report over at The Telegraph. More than 50 cars from Marvel Studios' Captain America: The First Avenger will join the Historics at Brooklands sale on March 3, including a 1941 Cadillac Series 61 featuring art deco styling and a 1933 Dodge Tow Truck, sourced from the Nevada Desert and complete with