

Speaking with Movie Web, Yvonne Strahovski talks about her upcoming film project I, Frankenstein, based on the graphic novel of the same name. She says that she begins filming in a couple weeks in Australia, and that it'll be a 'modern take' on the original Frankenstein story (Frankenstein is played by The Dark Knight's Aaron Eckhart). Strahovski also comments on the difference between her role in I, Frankenstein and her previous roles in her career, while also talking about the romantic elements in the film. For Strahovski's thoughts on the Chuck series finale, click the link below. "I'm flying in a couple of weeks to Australia to shoot another movie with Aaron Eckhart, which I'm really excited about called I, Frankenstein. It's going to be sort of an action-drama-romance type movie. I play a scientist, and I think I'm changing up my accent. I'm going to be British in this

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/BatFreak/news/?a=52631&t=Yvonne Strahovski On Her Role In I FRANKENSTEIN