

Several reports are coming in stating that the new Zack Snyder Superman film will be filming in Vancouver from September through January 2012. Third Act Productions Inc., a production company for the film has already been in Vancouver preparing the locations to achieve a "desolate" and "farflung" aesthetic. Here's what the Vancouver Sun reports: According to the movie's location manager, scenes will be filmed in various locations, including Helen Road and Main Street. Crew will be prepping Helen Road from Sept. 26 onwards, dressing the site with signage and props, and filming will likely take place the week of Oct. 3. Set locations are hush-hush, although interior filming will likely be held at Mammoth Studios in Burnaby, at 2880 Underhill Ave. As any Superman fan knows, if the "big blue boy scout" is in Alaska then he's probably on his way to the Fortress of Solitude. There's been much

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=46657&t=emZack_Snyders_Man_Of_Steel_Is_Headed_To_Alaska_Will_We_Finally_See_A_New_Version_Of_The_Fortress_of_Solitudeem