Sucker Punch, the upcoming epic action fantasy, is a movie which takes place in the dream world of a young girl. Her imagination provides the escape from reality which she so badly needs - and brings with it adventures involving dragons, B-52 bombers and brothels! Here is why, according to Zack Synder, it is so unique: "We have female characters in this situation that's mostly the terrain of men..." "It's a challenge economically to find who is the audience for the movie. Our hope is that the movie is transcendent, that it becomes something no one's seen before and exists outside the models [studios] use to track potential economic gains." Starring Emily Browning, Abbie Cornish, and Jena Malone, Sucker Punch hits theaters March 25th!
