

Is Zendaya playing Mary Jane Watson in Spider-Man: Homecoming? Or is she playing Michelle Gonzales? Back in August, The Wrap and Vulture both reported that Zendaya would actually be playing Tom Holland's love interest in the Jon Watts directed pic. It was said Watson's role was meant to be a major reveal/plot twist in the film. However, the actress/singer has given a recent interview to The Hollywood Reporter, seemingly debunking that report. "People are going to react over anything. But nothing [about my role] is fact. It's like, you guys are just making s#^t up at this point and then reacting to it. Whenever we were on set, one of us gets some random character name [on the call sheet]. [Bloggers were] like, 'Oh they must be so and so.' And we just crack up about it, because it's like, 'Whatever you want to think. You'll find out.' It's funny to watch the guessing game." In examining her statement, it appears that Watts

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/spider-man/zendaya-says-her-spider-man-homecoming-character-is-not-a-a146652>