

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/LetsCutTheBS/news/?a=28228&t=Zoe Saldana Says AVATAR And Star Trek Sequels Will Be Amazing

We know we have to wait Zoe! That's how it is when you don't actually work on a production team for James Cameron. You wait. That's also the fun of it. As a fan we can speculate, dissect, and pretty much treat any piece of news the way we want too. Oh the joys of being a fan! More from Zoe regarding two of the biggest Sci-Fi sequels in the works: "I email Jim and JJ to see if I can get a little bit of information and I don't know if it's a trend of mine or if I just psychologically gravitate towards these directors that are very secretive, but they're definitely talented." If I were Cameron and Abrams I would definitely not hit the Spam button in response to Zoe's emails. Zoe could ask me anything she wanted too and my answer would almost always be Yes.